Question #1- I don't have a strong understanding of financials. Will the BizPro Advisor Membership still work for me?

Answer: We have worked with thousands of business owners and buyers and are fully aware of the different levels of financial knowledge people may have, so it was very important that the business appraisal software be user friendly, straight forward to use and suitable for all levels of understanding and financial knowledge. If for any reason you have any question or are uncertain about anything, we provide full email and phone support - just contact our office and we will personally guide you through the process!

Question #2: Will the information and tools apply to any type of business?

Answer: Our materials support the buying of any existing business. The information and strategies presented are based on actual experiences with a wide and extensive range of businesses. Our business appraisal tools have been successfully used and are highly regarded by accountants, business brokers, and business experts, who consider it a very valuable resource.

Question #3: Why wouldn't the client just use a broker? They already have buyers, don't they?

Answer: Business buyers will be looking at a number of businesses via newspapers, online business sales directories, and business brokers, along with having their name and details listed with every broker. Nevertheless at the end of the day they buy the business that best meets their criteria and it will have nothing to do with the broker. It's the business that has the appeal and often buyers do not feel any loyalties to the broker.

In addition to this, 90% of the work involved in selling a business is in the preparation and we believe that when armed with the correct information and tools, you are the best person to help the business owner and business Buyer.

Question #4: Confidentiality is an important factor. How can I be sure that all of the information I enter into the business appraisal calculator is secure and always remains confidential?

Answer: We agree that confidentiality is very important. The appraisal program isn't online, so your information is only ever available or accessible to you .We do not store or save any information.
